

Let's take care of America for a change.

August 14, 2003:
The North American
power grid fails,
leaving 40 million Americans in the dark.

Five years later, we're still at risk.

BUILD AMERICA
SO AMERICA WORKS™

The men and women who built America have made her second to none. But with the number of electrical grid failures on the rise, at an $80 billion annual cost to our economy, it's time again to create good jobs and take care of our people and our country — the roads, bridges, waterways, schoolhouses and energy systems we depend on every day.
